Introduction

As a spiritual teacher, I am intimately acquainted with the laws of karma and reincarnation. They are necessary tools in helping to guide students in their spiritual journey. Each soul that comes to earth is bound by karmic law. Clearly understanding how reincarnation and karma work is key to our spiritual unfoldment and evolution.

There are many books on reincarnation and karma, but in teaching these topics for many years, I felt that there were definite gaps and misinformation in understanding these vital topics and that important points were not emphasized enough. My aim is to give you a vivid picture of the process of reincarnation and karma and to show you the central part they play in your life and spiritual development.

The goal of this book is to help you make better choices that are in alignment with your spiritual purpose. I hope to help you better understand the reason you may be facing certain conditions, tests and trials, the incredible divine plan you are a part of, why certain people are in your life, and the importance of facing and resolving your karma.

Professionally, I am primarily known for my work with the aura. From the age of three, I could see the energy field and I have spent my life studying and teaching on this fascinating and intricate topic. The aura plays an important role in working out our karma as part of our job of enlightening our aura is to release and redeem the karmic blemishes we accrue. Yet as a developed clairvoyant, I am open to other experiences in addition to seeing auras. In understanding the inner workings of reincarnation and karma, I have had to call on these other spiritual gifts. One of these gifts is the ability to communicate with celestial beings from the other side.

As we will explore in the following pages, the process of reincarnation and the laws of karma do not work by themselves. They are carefully administered by an incredibly well-organized network of celestial beings under the direction of God. No true esoteric understanding of reincarnation and karma is complete without the connection and cooperation of these Holy ones. Much of the knowledge shared in this book comes from my direct inner training by these Radiant Ones. I will refer to them by various terms such as Holy Ones, celestial beings, the Higher, spiritual teachers, yet regardless of the term, they are the administrators of God's divine plan.

I became aware of these wonderful beings from a very young age. They would present themselves to me so I could become familiar with them. As time went on, I started having more and more experiences with the Holy Ones. I learned there were many types of celestial beings as they all have their own special gifts and talents.

One of my early experiences with a celestial being was when I was eight years old. My family was living in Martins Ferry, Ohio at the time and I was participating in a centennial celebration organized through my school. I was dressed as a Dutch girl and had joined in a parade. My family could not attend as there was a big religious event my father was participating in the next town Zanesville. As I might finish before they returned, they left a key under the front doormat so I could get in the house. The parade was very close to my home and in those days, you did not worry about safety. My school teacher was with us, so I felt safe.

The parade finished and it was starting to get a little dark by the time I had changed back into my street clothes and walked home. When I got to the front door, I looked under the mat but no key! The door was locked and I had no way of getting in the house. So I sat on the front porch waiting for my family to return.

Night was approaching, and I was getting worried. Around the corner, I could hear a drunken man walking down the street towards me singing to himself. This frightened me so I ran next door to the church and hid in some bushes. I watched him pass by, and then it occurred to me that the kitchen window might be open and I could get in the house that way. The way our house was situated the kitchen window was a little hard to get to, but as I walked around to the back of the house, I saw that the window was open. I quickly climbed a wall in front of the window and crawled in.

As soon as I got in, I sat on a chair next to the kitchen table. I was trembling with fear. I don't know why I was so afraid. In truth, the man was not dangerous; he hadn't even seen me. But in my imagination I had made him bigger than life.

As I was sitting there trying to calm down, I suddenly saw white light fill the kitchen, and I felt very uplifted. Then in the middle of the room right next to me appeared a beautiful angelic being. I could see a form but it was hard to make out features as it radiated so much light. It didn't have any wings or anything like that, but I was absolutely thrilled to be in the presence of this being. I didn't know what it was but assumed it must be an angel. Later I was to find out it was my guardian angel.

This beautiful being started blessing me with light and I quickly calmed down. It mentally sent me the message, "Don't be afraid. You are safe." I felt elated that such a presence would come to help. It made me realize that I had to trust in God and not have fear. My family came home soon after, but I had learned by this time not to speak of my spiritual experiences as they would not understand.

When I got a little older, I began training with these wonderful beings to better understand my own gifts. As part of my spiritual training, I started to be systematically schooled in the principles of reincarnation and karma. This training began in my late teens and was in full swing by the time I was in my twenties.

They clairvoyantly showed me images of some of my past lives. I saw myself as an orphan in England, a soldier in China, an initiate in ancient Greece and so on. It was an amazing experience. They also showed my karmic relationships to my family, how I had known my father, mother and siblings in other lives. They helped me to work out any unresolved issues. I was taken to magnificent places on the other side where I was shown first hand how the incredible process of reincarnation works. This training went on for several years.

These experiences carried over into my everyday life. One time, I was attending an Edgar Cayce weekend workshop in the Los Angeles area taught by his son, Hugh Lyn Cayce. The group had meetings in the morning, would take a break for lunch and continue in the afternoon.

During one of these breaks, I went back to my room to rest. For no reason, I was feeling extremely drowsy and lay down. In a half awake half asleep state, I had a wonderful vision where I saw myself in the royal courts of France. I was in a ballroom in the full regalia of the times, the high wigs and full dresses. I was in a beautiful palace and could hear music playing. It was a very happy event and I was really enjoying myself. I felt very comfortable there and was socializing with others as the hall was filled with people. After a few minutes of this, the vision faded and I found myself in my room in Sylmar. It impressed me why I was there and what this meant. Then I realize that I was reliving an incarnation in France.

A second phase of my education began in my later twenties when I was specially trained in reincarnation and karma to prepare myself as a teacher. There's a tremendous duty as a spiritual teacher not to mislead any student, as you are karmically responsible if you mislead anyone intentionally or unintentionally. I took this responsibility very seriously—to the point I wasn't sure at first that I wanted to be a spiritual teacher. However, the Holy Ones guided me every step of the way. When I took on a student, the Higher would show me the necessary aspects of their karmic chart I needed to know, so I would understand better what their lessons were and how to help them resolve their karma without getting personally involved.

As with all aspects to my teachings, the material shared with you is based on direct clairvoyant observations and experiences. I wish to thank my co-author, Dimitri Moraitis, for his marvelous collaboration. This was a particularly intricate book to put together and Dimitri has done an extraordinary job of assimilating and organizing the material in a clear and cohesive way.

It is an honor and privilege to be a teacher of metaphysics and to be an emissary for the great celestial beings whose job it is to uplift humanity and bring us closer to God. It's an amazing process, and I'm still learning. I have been teaching for many years, yet I'm constantly surprised and delighted by new inspiration and knowledge that comes through. It has been a strong desire for many years to write this book as I know many will benefit.
